

Faculty Members' Vote Sets New Qualifications For College Dean's List

A comprehensive three-point program recommending major changes in the present dean's list was passed unanimously by the faculty Monday night, May 12.

Dean Edward Alvey Jr. announced that the proposal presented by the Committee on Superior Students raises the qualifying average for the dean's list to 2.5 or B plus. The new regulations become effective in September 1958.

Intermediate Honors

The faculty also approved recommendation that intermediate honors be awarded students achieving a 2.75 grade point average in the freshman and sophomore years, and that final honors be awarded to students who maintain a 2.75 average during the junior and senior years.

The dean's list will be printed and circulated for each semester and will honor students who maintain a B plus average with no grade below C. Names of students qualifying for both semesters of one session will be starred on the list appearing at the end of the year.

Dean Comments

Dean Alvey stated that raising the academic requirements for the dean's list will add prestige and "is a significant step forward toward high academic achievements." He also said that if the plan had been applied to the first semester dean's list for the current session, it would have reduced the number of names from 320 to 96.

Free Campus-Wide Circulation Approved for Bullet in '58-'59

Chancellor Simpson and Edgar E. Woodward, Bursar, discuss new circulation plan with Bullet editor, Margot Guest.

Chancellor Grellet C. Simpson and Mr. Edgar E. Woodward, Bursar, have approved a recommendation made by the Faculty Publications Committee on May 14 for free campus-wide distribution of the BULLET next year.

On the basis of figures submitted by business manager Audrey Manke, the bi-weekly publication will be issued to the entire student body fourteen times next year. The college will cover cost not paid by advertising revenue.

In addition, the publications committee has approved the establishment of a special publications board which will function as a part of the committee. Board members consist of a student representative from the editorial staff of the Epulet, the Battfield, and the BULLET, plus three members of the faculty publications committee. The faculty members will represent each of the student publications.

The functions of the board will be to coordinate the campus publications so that they serve the campus community more effectively; to discuss and evaluate policies affecting publications as a whole; and to appoint the editor of each publication on the recommendation of that publication. The board will also approve the yearly budget of the three.

Margot Guest, editor of the newspaper, said that she hopes that, "increased circulation will stimulate more individual interest in the BULLET and cause it to become a more effective organ of student opinion."

Chancellor Invited To Attend Session Held at Harvard

Chancellor and Mrs. Grellet C. Simpson have been honored with an invitation to represent Mary Washington College at the fourth annual President's Institute, to be held at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration June 17-25, 1958.

The Institute, sponsored by The Institute for College and University Administrators is specifically planned for newly appointed presidents. Participation will be limited to presidents of four-year colleges and universities who have been appointed to their position since June 1, 1955.

Graduation Program Set; Distinguished Guest Slated

Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, B.A., LL.D., L.H.D., Alternate United States Representative to the Eleventh Regular Session of the General Assembly of the United Nations, will be the guest speaker at the graduation of the Class of 1958 on June 3.

Regarded as a specialist in organizing volunteer services to carry out special community projects, Mrs. Lord is well-known for her efforts in improving the welfare of people in all walks of life.

After her graduation from Smith College in 1927, she began working as a volunteer social worker in Minneapolis. After her marriage in 1929, she moved to New York City and continued her work in this field, working for five years as a volunteer caseworker for the Community Service Society.

War Activities

During the Second World War, Mrs. Lord made a distinguished contribution to the war effort as a member of the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee of the National War Fund and as Chairman of the Fund's National Advisory Committee on Women's Participation.

In 1944, she was appointed a member of the National Civilian Advisory Committee of the Women's Army Corps by General George C. Marshall. In the interest of the WAC, she toured Army installations in the United States, Europe, the Middle East and the Mediterranean. After the war, she continued her interest in the women in the armed services.

In 1943, she was awarded an official ribbon by the Offices of Civilian Defense for 5000 hours of volunteer service, and in 1948, General Omar Bradley, then Army Chief of Staff, presented her with a citation for her work with the WAC and for her assistance in prompting the passage of legislation making women's services part of the regular Army, Navy and Air Corps.

In addition to her association with the United Nations, Mrs. Lord has played an active role in Presidential political campaigns since 1940. During the past Presidential campaign, she was co-Chairman of the National Citizens Committee for Eisenhower-Nixon.

Awards, Pageantry Highlight Program For Class Night

Seniors Receive Special Mention

Jané Shuman, senior class vice-president, presented Chancellor Grellet C. Simpson with "North African Village", a painting by Norman Rubington, during the Class Night program in George Washington Auditorium Wednesday evening, May 14.

The gift to the school from the class of 1958 was presented in memory of Dr. George E. Shankle. Peggy Kelly received the Thomas Jefferson Cup award given annually in commemoration of the joining of MWC with the University of Virginia. It is given to the senior with a high scholastic average who has contributed greatly to the college. The presentation was made by Wilhelmina Tinken of the class of '57.

The Kiwanis award to the graduating senior who has contributed most to the college during her four years went to Ruth McCulloch.

Dr. Hewetson presented Fran Karins with an award from The Wall Street Journal. Given for outstanding work in courses in finance, this is the first time the award has been made at Mary Washington. Fran Karins also won the Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary fraternity award. Dr. Ralford E. Sumner presented the award.

ALL UNSIGNED EDITORIALS ARE WRITTEN BY THE EDITOR

It IS An Honor

The dean's list for the 1958-59 session will include the names of students who maintain a grade point average of 2.5. The new changes approved by the faculty remedy certain inadequacies in the present requirements.

There has been in the past several years considerable criticism of a system of selection which required a student to maintain only a 2.0 average in order to receive recognition. The Bulletin has commented editorially that the purpose of the list is to recognize students who have done outstanding work and it might be argued that a 2.0 record hardly constitutes "outstanding" achievement.

Not only has the faculty voted to increase the requirements, but also it has added a means of obtaining real recognition even beyond the honor of being on the dean's list. The intermediate and final honors program enables a student of exceptional merit to be commended.

During the past year a remarkable number of changes in the academic program have been enacted. A strengthened probation system, improved basic graduation requirements, institution of college boards as an admission qualification are evidences of a growing trend toward high standards. The recent revision of dean's list is another giant step forward to the goal of an academic program equal to that of any other college in the country.

Evaluation of Accomplishment

As the end of another school year approaches, we should take stock of all that has been accomplished during the preceding nine months. The use of the word "accomplished" does not assume anything, it should connote fact. For it should be impossible for a person to remain in an institution of higher learning for such an extended period of time without achieving something.

For the freshmen and seniors the end of the 1957-58 session marks a beginning and an end. The freshmen have weathered the storms of their first year away from home, they have made the necessary adjustments, and many of them look forward to the sophomore year with confidence, anticipation, and a sense of fulfillment.

The graduating seniors have reached the end of a phase of their lives, a phase which has probably contributed more to their maturing and preparation for adult life than any other. As they step out into marriage, careers, or more advanced education, they will look back on their college experience with a sense of accomplishment.

This sense of accomplishment includes more than acquisition of academic prowess. Also included are social achievements, meeting new people, forming lasting friendships, and learning to live with others. Common-sense learning as well as material acquired from books is also a contribution of college life to the molding of an individual. All in all, achievement leads to the building of a better person, a better life.

To the sophomores and juniors, accomplishment means that they are closer to achieving their goals. Graduation and/or marriage are, in a sense, the immediate goals for which we are all striving. Our achievements this year are part of the total which we will have reached at the end of our college career.

In this total we find also cooperation, understanding, and tolerance. These abstract terms add up to a lot more than can be expressed in words. They mean more than just living—they imply a give-and-take relationship which adds to the formation of a well-rounded individual.—S.B.M.

National Gallery Installs Lec Tour

Audio-Aids Proved Success At Mellon

by Carmen Culpeper

Are you an art lover but do you hate guides and tours? The National Gallery of Art in Washington has eliminated this inconvenience by installing a new electronic system which is called Lec Tour.

Now a person is able to rent a pocket radio for twenty-five cents a day. You can either hold the receiver to your ear or clamp it on and listen to tape-recorded lectures which last for about ten minutes. Ten of the Gallery's rooms have been especially wired for this new system.

The Capital is showing several new movies. Shakespeare's immortal Henry V comes alive again on MacArthur screen with Sir Lawrence Olivier playing the role of the unforgettable king.

The screen version of Diana Barrymore's autobiography Too Much, Too Soon has been brought to the screen with Errol Flynn playing the role of John Barrymore and Dorothy Malone playing the part of his uninhibited daughter. It is now playing simultaneously at the Ambassador and the Metropolitan.

Eugene O'Neill's Desire Under the Elms has been filmed and can be seen at the Playhouse. Sophia Loren plays the role of Old Ephraim Cabot's (Burt Ives) young wife, who falls in love with her stepson, which is convincingly played by Anthony Perkins.

The Pulitzer Prize Play, which also won the New York Drama Critics' Award, The Diary of Anne Frank, opens at the National Theatre on Monday, the 19th, and is scheduled for a four-week run. The cast includes Francis Lederer, Maria Pamer, Gilbert Green, and Abigail Kellogg.

CURRENT EVENTS

Violence, Tax Cut Highlight US News

In a demonstration believed to have been Communist-inspired, Vice-President Richard M. Nixon was stoned last week in Lima, Peru.

Since then, reports have been received that a possible attempt could be made on the vice-president's life upon his arrival in Caracas, Venezuela. It is understood that the Communists might hire a Venezuelan student to try a shot at Nixon in this last stop on his Latin American good will tour. His Secret Service bodyguard, however, will not be increased, although the Venezuelan police will undoubtedly take extra precautionary measures.

Secretary of State Dulles, acting on the direct order of President Eisenhower, reported to be "hopping mad" over the possible attack, released a statement demanding measures for protection.

Reduction Proposed
 The first concrete step toward a tax reduction was taken this week in Capitol Hill. Nudged along by Speaker Sam Rayburn, the House Ways and Means Committee began drafting a tax-relief bill for small businesses.

This step, although a short one, breaks the barrier which has held back general tax cutting. The realization that business would bounce back neither suddenly nor quickly instigated this revision. Further action will have to be taken on corporation income and excise taxes before June 30, for on that date the present regulations will expire.

Revisions Suggested
 What revisions are proposed? The following suggestions are front-runners in answer to this question.

PERSONAL INCOME — Raise personal exemptions from the present $600 to $700.

CORPORATION INCOME — Reduce rate from 52% to 50%.

The Seniors Respond to the "Trapeze"

POINT OF VIEW

Environment Influences Work

By Aileen Woods

It is an acknowledged fact that a student who is well adjusted to her associates and living quarters produces a higher quality of work than one who is dissatisfied with her surroundings.

Girls packed into rooms designed to accommodate only a portion of their number find it difficult to maintain high standards in their work. The lack of space, privacy and quiet creates a handicap, preventing the student from giving to her work the attention that it demands. True, this situation exists to a greater or lesser degree in all dormitories, but it seems most unwise to aggravate it by crowding more students into already inadequate living quarters.

Some progress toward solving the problem has been made this year with the elimination of the "temporary space" arrangements in Randolph and Mason dormitories. Although the number of students living in one room has not been reduced, the girls now have an opportunity to fill the rooms themselves. They needn't worry about returning to school in September and finding that someone has been "placed" in their room without their knowledge.

The new building program would seem to be an ideal solution to the problem of inadequate residential facilities. This is true, however, only as long as the College does not grow larger. If Mary Washington is forced to make significant increases in enrollment, the new dormitories and the chances for relieving the present situation will be eliminated.

"What features would you appreciate most in the new dorms?"

A new dormitory is being built! The news flashed around campus and soon everyone was wondering if the new dorm would have all the little extras which we all want.

We can sit and muse about all the features which we would like to see incorporated in the new dorm and even as we do this we notice that the lighting in our present dorms is not good. A greater number of tall lamps and more window space would be a very important factor in improving the lighting conditions. Sliding closet doors and light, modern furniture would add a lot to the general atmosphere of the rooms. Behind these sliding doors there should be an over-head light.

All these lamps would accentuate the need for a stronger supply of current and more electrical outlets in the rooms. Many people would appreciate smaller, but individual desks, which would allow ample study space. To make the conditions ideal for studying, it would be nice if the dorms were made completely sound-proofed.

So that people don't think that the occupants of this dream dorm will be studying all day long, we would like to suggest an air-conditioned television room. Near this room should be found other places of relaxations of many kinds. It would be nice if Coke, candy and cigarette machines could be placed on every floor. It is hoped that at least a few of these improvements will find their way into the dorm which is being built here on the Hill.

Linda Jones
 Lee Fryling

In looking forward to the completion of the new dormitory, I hope it will include many of the facilities offered in Randolph and Mason dorms. Individual study desks would eliminate the inconveniences encountered by having two girls use a small table. Also I would like to see a TV set put in the recreation room for the students, as well as their dates.

Sally Brock

As plans regarding the construction of new dorms are considered, there are numerous improvements that would be welcomed by the student body.

Included in the possible list might be such things as the following: constructing the dorm on the suite plan; having individual storage and closet space for each girl; including in the furnishings of the room a desk for each occupant, and one or two comfortable chairs in each room, also better lighting in the rooms, overhead as well as desk illumination; TV facilities in the dorm recreation rooms. We need at least one room in each dorm containing appropriate facilities to be used expressly for study.

Final Production Of Season Is Success For Players

By Judith Townsend

The role of Medea is a challenging one for the most professional actress; for a college actress it is one of the most difficult, but also one of the most rewarding. Leavelle Billingsley did an outstanding job in her performance in the role of Robinson Jeffers' adaptation of the Greek tragedy last week; she dominated the stage and carried the entire play.

It was well that she did. The minor characters, with the exception of Betty Hames as the nurse and the two young boys who played Medea's children, were lifeless and undistinguished generally. The male leads particularly seemed lackluster and unemotional. In many college productions the major figure is apt to overshadow the less important characters; it is unfortunate, however, that the personality of Jason could not have been developed more carefully.

The technical aspects of production were excellent, as usual. The set was colorful and the sound effects dramatic. Perhaps the only sour note was the attempt to depict the snakes at the side of Medea's door with flickering lights—a noticeably unsuccessful device. Costuming was particularly effective. Roberta Beamer has done an outstanding job this year as costume mistress.

Chairmen Elected By Student Body

On Monday, May 12, Nancy Jane Crossland and Margaret Fay Crisman were elected by the student body as Safety Chairman and Dance Chairman, respectively.

Nancy Crossland, a junior, is from Northampton, Massachusetts. She represented the junior class on the Recreation Association. A psychology and elementary education major, she plans to teach the second grade.

The office of Safety Chairman is being remodeled, and next year a safety week will be included in its activities. Various committees will be formed to carry out the functions of this organization.

Margaret Crisman, also a junior, hails from Winchester, Virginia. She was recently elected "Best Dressed" girl on campus for the Glamour magazine contest. She was in the 1956 May Court and was serenaded chairman of Mason Dormitory this year. Margie is a Home Economics major and wants to become a dietitian. This summer she plans to work with her father in Winchester.

As far as their plans for next year are concerned, neither of the girls has had much time to plan. Margie Crisman states, "I hope we can arrange something new next year for dances, and we will look for a terrific band."

Surrealism Is Dramatically Represented As Skits And Costume Add To Chaos

Room 61, Meichers was the scene of a dramatic representation of surrealism on Tuesday, May 13. Mr. Schnelllock, in collaboration with students of his 9:30 and 11:30 art appreciation classes, members of the faculty and other guests presented a short skit depicting the essence of surrealism.

Throughout the skit students added to the chaotic atmosphere by their unconventional dress and comments. Mr. Schnelllock, wearing a wire trash basket on his head, served as chief. Members of the faculty, dressed in academic robes, performed in various ways: "Pops" Faulkner posed as janitor, Dr. Graves dribbled a basketball around the room, sang and added various comments to the lecture,

Students Exhibit Original Art In Dupont Paintings, Sculpture, Ceramics Displayed

by Dee deShields

The Student Art Exhibition now being shown in the Dupont galleries displays the talent and originality of the art students of Mary Washington College.

The drawings and tempera paintings from the figure sketch and drawing and design classes, taught by Mrs. Van Winckel, are very fresh and decorative.

In the same room are some fine prints from the graphic class. Among the most interesting ones are: Louise Miller's "Row" a long color woodcut in shades of maroon and purple; Dorit Lesser's "Horses"; Amelia Kite's bright wood-engraving of a rural scene; and "Wawoo," a sophisticated African lady, by Bonnie Hatch.

Across the hall are examples of work from Mr. Cecere's sculpture and modeling classes. The center of attention in the practice ex-

Ceramic Collection

Two pieces are a small mummy-type figure carved in plaster by Louise Miller and a subtle head by Jan Rutan. At one end of the room is a collection of pots from Mr. Mullavey's ceramic classes. Among the fine pieces of stoneware, is a massive, hand-built pot by Inga Kunn, a free-form by Gisela Randolph, and two exotic little boxes by Sieu Cheng. Above the pots is a mural, "The Crap Game" by Dorit Lesser.

Most exciting of all are the two oil painting rooms. Under the excellent guidance of Mr. Isenburger the students have developed individual styles which express their personalities. Some very fine painters have developed.

There are a few paintings that deserve special notice: the fiery, emotional "WOMAN" by Jane Shuman; Sien Cheng's lovely "SEASCAPE"; Dorit Lesser's cool, pearl-like "NUDE"; the excellent "COMPOSITION IN SPACE" by Virginia Moseley and also her "ARCADE".

Other Paintings

Others to be noted are Bonnie Hatch's colorful, serene "NUDE", her "FLOWERS," and the scholarship winning "ONCE". Also to be mentioned are Gisela Randolph's "LANDSCAPE," Elizabeth Carty's fine "ABSTRACTION," the "FLOWERS," by Valinda Marks, and "MUSIC CLASS" by Elizabeth Pavlansky, which utilizes the warm brown wash under the paint.

Other paintings of interest are: Jeri Polvin's "GREEN SHADOWS" by Martha Lee Farmer, "FLOWERS" by Carolyn Cross, and "RED STUDY" by Frances Ferguson (from Mr. Schnelllock's oil painting class).

MWC Student In Apple Festivities

Ruth McCulloch Tells Of Her Experiences

When I arrived as a princess for the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, on Wednesday, April 30, I was immediately hurried on to the official bus to go to the pageant rehearsal. We practiced marching up and down the 75 steps of Handley High School with great thankfulness for the sturdy arms of our cadet escorts from Massanutten Military Academy.

Wednesday night we met our official escorts for all the dances, teas, and parties—young men of college age from the Winchester area. But we were not allowed to ride with them to the informal party scheduled for the evening. (We were protected, cherished and sheltered by the many omnipresent chaperones with loving, and at times almost exasperating care!) We piled into taxis and headed for the beautiful country estate at which the party was to be held. There was one mishap on the way. The leader of the stream of about ten taxis pulled into the wrong driveway, and the startled inhabitants of a rather modest little home came to the door in great panic to find out who their unexpected visitors were!

EXAMS? — Lots o' luck!!

Highlights of the day Friday were the Queen's luncheon and the Grand Parade. A formal dinner and the final ball climaxed the evening. All the princesses agreed that we'll never hear the song "I'll Be With You in Apple Blossom Time" without remembering the wonderful time we had at the Festival.

CLOTHESLINE

MWC Wedding Belles Choose Trousseaux For Honeymoons

"Those wedding bells are breaking up that old gang of mine." What a popular song this seems to be on "the hill" this spring. Many of our more fortunate girls will walk the aisle this summer to the sound of those happy bells, and now they are busy planning that all-important ceremony, their future home and their trousseau.

Willetts Directs Up-Keep of Campus

by Sue Baumann

Meet Mr. Vincent Willetts, Superintendent of Grounds and Head of a staff of seventy-six; Mr. Willetts directs many day-to-day jobs, provides for the safety, comfort and well-being of the students.

From gardener to carpenter, fireman to electrician, he maintains a crew which polices the campus from golf course to green house.

A pleasant, grey-haired man, Mr. Willetts has been at Mary Washington for eleven years now. Although originally from Pennsylvania, he has incorporated a soft drawl into his speech to make him a true Virginian. Before coming to Fredericksburg, he worked for seven years on the restoration of Williamsburg.

Besides controlling a maintenance crew for the upkeep of the college, he is currently engaged in directing the new campus-wide telephone system and surfacing parking area behind Dupont Hall. Because of an unusual rainy season this year, he is behind in the spring work. But plans are afoot to plant six thousand azalias to give added beauty and color to the grounds which he has already so successfully maintained.

A big vote of thanks is due to Mr. Willetts and his staff for cultivating the beauty of the campus for the enjoyment of all.

In planning your fashion trousseau three things should be carefully considered: the place and customs of your present home, the honeymoon site and atmosphere, and your future home location. If you are moving away after the wedding or even if you aren't, new costumes will come in handy for showers and parties preceding the blessed day.

Place Influences

The place of your honeymoon will influence the type of clothes you should include in your trousseau. Where sport clothes are called for, remember to buy things that can be mixed and used at home or at work, later. Be practical and yet glamorous. Also consider where you will live after the honeymoon. For example, you might not find use for too many cocktail dresses in the heart of the African jungles or for several bathing suits in Alaska.

The dress you dream of, from the time you first realize there are such creatures as males, is your wedding gown. This summer, the gowns, both short and long, will flow in graceful materials like silk organza, lace, taffeta, silk mousseline, and Swiss organdy, to name a few. Both chapel and cathedral trains are popular depending on the formality of your wedding. White is a flattering color to everyone, and this gown should also flatter you by its lines and style.

Break With Tradition

You're the star, and as such you should be unbelievably beautiful. (Even in a feed sack, I'll admit, looking beautiful is pretty easy to do on your wedding day.) You might like to break from the traditional and wear a pale, pale pastel. Consider your gown when you choose your bridesmaids' dresses and pick them to complement your gown as well as your attendant's coloring and "dimensions."

Suits or dresses with a jacket seem to be especially good for the going-away outfit. Choose a fabric that will stay fresh after a long day's trip. A lovely hat with matching shoes and bag will complete the costume for your very first trip as Mrs.

Your trousseau should most of all please your future husband, so keep his favorite colors and styles in mind. He has to live with you. Best of everything, you lucky girls.

EXCHANGE EVENTS

May Day Celebrations, Drama Highlight Neighboring College Campus Activities

The recent activities of our neighboring colleges have been centered around May Day celebrations and dramatic productions. Instead of a movie on location now, a telecast is planned for this week-end. Graduation plans are well under way and all students everywhere are eagerly packing to leave school for the summer.

Madison College had an economy-size May Day celebration. The Golden Anniversary of the college provided the stimulus for the greater-than-usual production entitled "Golden Years." The event commemorated the forty-fifth May Day festival, the first having been observed in 1913.

Current events on the Hood campus in Frederick, Maryland, have included May Day activities, an exchange student day with Goucher in connection with the COCA exchange program and the lecturer Dr. Alexander Dallin of the Russian Institute at Columbia University, who spoke on "An Assessment of Soviet Intentions and Capabilities Today."

Final productions of the dramatic associations and departments are being presented at our neighboring schools. A cut of Tobacco Road and The Shooting of Dan McGrew, enacted by June Harding and her troupe of puppeteers was given at R. P. I. The Reluctant Debutante, a comedy by William Douglas Home, was performed at Hollins recently.

Two Blind Mice was the last production of the Little Theatre at Clemson College. The University Players at the University of Richmond presented Somerset Maugham's For Services Rendered.

Ralph Marterie, the most popular band in the country according to a recent vote taken by Down Beat magazine, will play for the Finals Dance at the University of Virginia, on Saturday, June 7. Baccalaureate sermon will be given Sunday morning. Class Day exercises and a reception at President Darden's home are planned for the afternoon, followed by the graduates' party in Alumni Hall Sunday evening. Graduation ceremonies will be held Monday afternoon in the Amphitheatre.

Tennis Matches Are Played At Colleges

By Patty Morgan

The Recreation Association held a picnic at Stratford Wayside Tuesday, May 13. The picnic was given for the old and incoming council.

The golf tournament is going rather slowly. All golf players are urged to finish playing their holes.

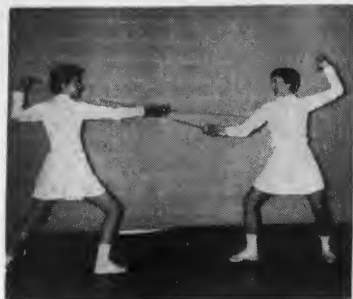

With the onset of Spring the MWC tennis club has been busy playing tennis. A tennis ladder has been set up to encourage the girls to play matches to reach the top.

Starting this Wednesday May 14, there are three matches scheduled. They are with Douglas Freeman High School in Richmond. Miss Fauncy Lawrence, a graduate of MWC who is now the instructor there, says that they are excellent players, offering a definite challenge for the tennis club.

On May 19th the team is playing Westhampton. As this should also be an excellent match and both of these games are going to be played on MWC courts, everyone is invited to attend. Your support is needed!

The team is going to William and Mary College for a tournament on May 20.

Sharon Freeman and Joyce Kirby shown in a fencing match on Devil-Goat Day. Sharon, a freshman, and Joyce, a junior, illustrate the form that put the Devils out in front in the Day's fencing rivalry. Sharon is the incoming president for 1958-59 of the Fencing Club.

Fencing Club Activities Include Bouts Demonstrations, Intercollegiate Rivalry

On Tuesday, May 6, the 1957-58 Fencing Club culminated its yearly activities by participating in the Devil-Goat Day rivalry.

Out of nine bouts that were fenced, the Devils upheld their reputation by winning six. Joyce Kirby, Sharon Freeman, Susan Deane, Normie Davis were the Devil champions. Seniors who participated also were Patty Harmon and Marcia Boyles.

Upon completion of the fencing bouts, Miss E. D. Turner, the club sponsor, invited the members to her home for dessert. While there, the girls made new plans for the coming year and discussed past projects.

In brief, these have been the major activities of the Fencing Club for 1957-58: a trip to Washington, D. C., to watch a professional fencing demonstration given by Professor George Santelli and his New York fencers; an intercollegiate fencing match first with Madison College in Harrisonburg; another match with the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg; a second trip to Washington, D. C., for the purpose of advanced fencing instructions; and the participation in the Devil-Goat rivalry.

Miss E. D. Turner deserves a special word of appreciation for her fine leadership, her cheerful cooperation, and her unfailing willingness in her effort to improve the Fencing Club here at Mary Washington. This year's officers — Joyce Kirby, president; Mollie Bradshaw, vice president; and Karen Larsen, secretary-treasurer—also deserve a word of praise for a job well accomplished. The officers of next year—Sharon Freeman, president; Normie Davis, vice president, and Susan Deane, secretary-treasurer—hope that they may fulfill their duties equally well.

Other members are: Betty Prince, Gail Rilling, Joyce Kirby, Rosa Dickenson, Miriam Goebel, Diane Delamarre, and Prissy Buckaway.

The primary emphasis of the program will be on the decision-making function of the president. A series of actual problems will attempt to provide the background, the environment, the traditions, the personalities and the circumstances within which a president has had to reach a decision on a course of action.

Discussion of typical problems faced by the president's wife will be the core of the program planned for wives. The second part of the program will consist of evening talks by leaders in the field of education and an opportunity to discuss with these experienced college presidents and their wives the problems under consideration.

The names of these students will appear on the programs printed for the assembly.

Seniors having a 2.75 average for the final two years will be recognized at commencement. These students will receive a certificate with their diplomas and their names will be starred on the official program.

Dr. Carroll Quenzel, librarian and acting chairman of the committee on superior students, said he believed the plan would afford recognition to worthy students and would stimulate student interest in academic excellence.

MWC Class of 1958 Chooses Isabel Gill Honorary Alum

Isabel Lee Gill

Outstanding Senior Honored by Class

Miss Isabel Gill, President of the Class of 1958, was presented a life membership in the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association as a part of the Golden Anniversary Banquet at Homecoming in April.

Miss Gill was one of five nominees presented by her class to an alumnae committee which considered each girl individually and then made the final selections. More than fifty seniors were present at the banquet to see their class president receive her life membership card from Mrs.

Award for Service Given MW Alum By Woman's Club

At the annual spring luncheon of the Young Woman's Club of Cape Charles, Va., Mrs. Ina Taylor (Powell) (Class of 1916) was the recipient of the first award given by the club to the most outstanding woman in the community for her service to her community, her home and her church.

Mrs. Powell is a member of the faculty of the Cape Charles High School and has been prominent in the activities of her church and community for many years. She is a past district secretary for the Wesleyan Service Guild and past president of the Woman's Club of the Eastern Shore of Virginia.

She is a member of the official board of Trinity M. E. Church, teacher of the Young Adults, Chairman of the Commission on Missions, and secretary of Missionary Education in the Guild. In 1956 one of her articles appeared in The Upper Room, a daily devotional reading booklet for Methodists. She is in demand as a speaker and is well known for her book reviews.

As the recipient of the award as Woman of the Year, Mrs. Powell was presented with a beautiful scroll suitable for framing. The honor bestowed on Ina Powell is greatly appreciated by the Alumnae Association of Mary Washington College of which she has been one of the most active and most loyal members for many years. She has acted as Class Agent, president of local chapter and as member of the National Board of Directors. She is, at present, president of the Eastern Shore Chapter of Mary Washington College Alumnae Association.

Nominated by the Class of 1958 for Class Agent are Sue Blythe of Appomattox, Va., and Peggy Kelley of Richmond.

ON CAMPUS

Phone Exchange, Reading Program, Top College News

Leading the list of innovations at MWC this spring is the installation of a campus telephone exchange. The new system, which will go into effect September 2, 1958, will allow all incoming calls to pass through the college switchboard. This will be located in the basement of George Washington Hall.

Along with the theme of "newness," the English Department has announced a new policy. English majors will now be required to read and report on twenty books. The books will be selected from an approved reading list that majors will receive prior to their junior year. Ten books should be completed during their junior year and the remainder of May of their senior year.

Major Counselling Night was inaugurated at MWC April 24. During the evening, sophomores and anyone else who was interested had the opportunity to discuss their major programs with the chairmen and other members of the college's academic departments. The program was planned to aid sophomores who are now required to "request permission to (Continued on Page 10)

1958 Homecoming Successful; Reunions Highlight Festivities

The fiftieth anniversary Homecoming took place April 11th-13th with 119 registered for the weekend and many, many more who just stopped by for the afternoon class reunions. The Class of 1948 was the outstanding class present both in spirit and in number present. Sixty-two former students attended their tenth reunion. One of this class came in from the state of Washington. The Class of 1918 observed its Ruby Anniversary with six members present.

Dues Notice

Attention! Alumnae who are currently paying on life memberships or who are annual members are encouraged to make an extra effort to pay their dues to the Alumnae Office on campus as soon as possible. We wish to draw your attention to the stipulation in the Constitution which states that LIFE MEMBERSHIPS BE PAID WITHIN A FIVE YEAR PERIOD.

Honorary Sponsors New Reading List For MW Alumnae

Cap and Gown, Mary Washington's Senior Honor Society, has announced that it will compile an "After School Reading List" for members of the Class of 1958.

The list will be made up by department chairmen, who have been asked to list both elementary texts and classic works in their field which will contribute to the further education of MW graduates.

The purpose of the list is to help acquaint the new alumnae with fields other than their own, and also to encourage them to continue in their own field. It is hoped that it will contribute to the intellectual stimulation of the graduates and raise the standards of college alumnae.

Graduate Honored By B'nai Brith

Miss Nellie Celeste Jones, class of '46, was honored for her work in education and community improvement by the Rimmon-Dominion Lodge and B'nai Brith Women of Richmond at a dinner at the Oak Hill Country Club on April 27.

The annual civic award of "man" of the year for 1958 was presented to Miss Jones by Harry Lee Cohn, a past president of the Rimmon-Dominion Lodge.

In addition to her work as principal of Grace Arents School, Miss Jones has served as president of the Department of Classroom Teachers of the Virginia Education Association and is currently chairman of District C, Elementary Principals of VEA. She is also Richmond Area chairman for the Alumnae Endowment Fund campaign.

Miss Jones studied at Columbia University, Harvard University and the University of Colorado after leaving Mary Washington.

Homecoming events in addition to the class reunions included the annual business meeting, a nice luncheon, an art exhibit, the banquet, and a student production of Gilbert and Sullivan's THE MIKADO. Many celebrities were present for these activities; among them were Dr. Colgate Darden, University president and speaker for the banquet; the Board of Visitors of the University and the Mary Washington faculty.

The Election Committee announced at the Homecoming luncheon the results of the "vote by mail" procedure which was initiated this year. Elected for two year terms as treasurer and historian respectively were Sarah Herring Estes, Class of 1951, and Mary Easley Tarpley, Class of 1933. These new officers begin their duties June 1.

Alums Encouraged To Join New Club By Fund Chairman

What is the Century Club? It is a group whose membership includes those alumnae leaders who give $100.00 or more to the 50th Anniversary Endowment Fund. It is an outright gift, not a pledge.

Since its inception at Homecoming, we have had four contributors of $100 each. They are Mabel Foster Ford of the Class of 1918, the Class of 1948, the Baltimore, Maryland Chapter, and the Eastern Shore Chapter. We want to increase this number very substantially this year. We invite you to become a Century Giver.

Institutions of worth exist because people want them to exist and share their means to insure their continuance.

The Birthday of a Lady

Mrs. Peter D. Copes, President of the Alumnae Association, and Dr. Grellet C. Simpson, Chancellor of Mary Washington College, cut the MWC birthday cake which was a surprise feature of the Homecoming Golden Anniversary Banquet.

Letter of Thanks

Dear Mrs. Copes,

The florist brought to my door last Thursday the breath-taking gift from the Alumnae—A symphony in American Beauty roses, with an artistic arrangement of matching ribbon, built into a red vase of unusually graceful lines. I placed it on a low table, seated myself before it, with a little tray of food, and had six o'clock dinner with red, red roses and the Mary Washington girls, who had sent them, for truly, in memory, they were there! They always are, they always will be.

That the girls, each Homecoming, continue to remember me in terms of fragrance and flower-beauty, makes for an abiding gratitude in my heart. It is written in the pattern of living that the Mary Washington girls and I follow diverging paths but even so, my interest in each one of them will always seek them out; my love will be the "invisible" companion to them as they go about in their own little worlds.

Sincerely,

NINA BUSHNELL

April 20.

Three Chapters Report Current Spring News

Eastern Shore

The annual spring homecoming luncheon of the Eastern Shore Chapter of the Alumnae Association of Mary Washington College was held at the Driftwood Restaurant near Cape Charles on Saturday, April 26. Twenty-six alumnae were present including the following officers and a director of the National Alumnae Association: Mrs. Jane Hatcher Major, Vice President; Miss Doris Steele, Secretary; Miss Emma Tinken, Executive Secretary; Miss Kathleen Goodloe, Parliamentarian; Miss Mary Tarpley, Historian; Mrs. Margaret Kirkpatrick Thompson, Director of Fredericksburg Chapter. These off-Shore guests were also entertained in the home of Mrs. Peter D. Copes, the National President, who was also present at the meeting.

Mrs. Copes presented a gift from the local chapter to its president, Mrs. Ina T. Powell, in recognition of the honor recently bestowed upon her by the Young Woman's Club of Cape Charles as the most outstanding woman in her community for her service to her community, her home and her church.

The Chairman of the Scholarship Fund, Mrs. Pearl Smith, announced that a one hundred dollar scholarship would be awarded Miss Martha Custis Johnson of Central High School prior to her entrance at Mary Washington College in the fall.

Mrs. Gerald Moore, Treasurer, presented a check for one hundred dollars to Miss Emma Tinken, Executive Secretary, which the chapter voted for the Endowment Fund.

Preceding adjournment, plans were made for the fall meeting.

Miami Chapter

The Miami Chapter met for its spring luncheon Saturday, April 26, Burdine's Tea Room, downtown Miami. From different sections of Dade County came Jackie McConnell Berry, Lina Jennings Bertok, Ruth Smith Hargrave, B. Oakman Hobson, Leona Hall How-

Peninsula Chapter

This year the program committee has discovered talent within the chapter. Carlton Ann Adams class of 1957 entertained the chapter with several vocal selections at the April luncheon. At the annual banquet in May Lucille Wheeler plans to give an illustrated talk on her trip to South America last summer.

Betty Yancey Haywood and Annie Patterson Gardner had a most pleasant visit with the Norfolk Chapter at their March luncheon. Anne Segar Fowler is area chairman for the Endowment Fund Campaign. She succeeds Irene Lundy Brown who is moving out of the city.

Jella Maney Phillips, 1928 class agent, lost her husband recently. Bertha Larrabee Carr is retiring in June from her position as visiting teacher for the Hampton school system. Mrs. Carr received her B.S. Degree from Mary Washington College in 1942, M.A. Degree from Columbia University in 1949 (conferred by Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of Columbia University).

She served as Parliamentarian of Mary Washington College alumnae association in 1947, elected Vice President of the National Association in April 1948, and was acting President in 1949 when Martha Swoope, President, was married.

Mrs. Carr has been active in the Peninsula Chapter over a period of years and has served in various capacities. Also she has been very active in numerous other community organizations. The Peninsula will certainly miss Miss "Birdie" Carr when she goes to Florida.

The Peninsula Chapter reports fifty-one paid members.

ard, Jo Walker Magee, Beverly Bently Smith, Ann Lovelace Trees, D. G. Pate Wilson, Helen Reynolds Vivian, and Frances Malone. Alumnae living in the Miami area may contact Mrs. P. E. Howard, president, for information about the meetings, and events. Her address is 1276 NE. 147 Street, Miami.

Williamsburg Alumnae Meet at Luncheon

Linda Cowles Henderson (Mrs. Brantley, Jr.) was hostess at the Chickahominy House April 14 when local alumnae of M. W. C. met for luncheon. Lois Saunier Hornsby (Mrs. Robert S.) and Glenna Graves Shifflett (Mrs. Thomas B.) reported to the group on alumnae weekend which they had just attended at the College.

Mrs. Henderson, as spokeswoman for the group, is requesting all Mary Washington alumnae in the area to let her know their names, and she has issued a cordial invitation to them to have lunch with her at the Chickahominy House.

Class of 1915

I was very much disappointed not to attend the "Homecoming." School duties claimed my time. I missed seeing everyone, but I heard that everything was lovely.

I sent personal notes to most of the girls and heard from Alma Ralford, Alice Warren Twiddy, Charlotte Rice Weymouth, and Anne Harris Schumacher.

Had conversations over the phone with Elizabeth Russell, Belmeier Linticum Masters, and Ettienne Broadus Moore. None of these could attend Homecoming this time. Some had other plans. Anne Harris Schumacher could not leave her grandchildren. Many members of our class have expressed the desire to plan for a reunion in 1960. All right, girls, let us work toward this goal.

Please write me about yourselves.

Ruth Carter Vellins

Class of 1916

Again for the third year, Mary Rice Pomeroy and I have been the only ones to uphold the honor of the class of 1916 on the Hill, for Homecoming. We have had a grand time and each year have wished for many more of you to enjoy it with us. Our Homecoming Committees have planned fine programs, and this year our Fiftieth Anniversary Homecoming really topped all others.

Do write and tell me your news so the next Bulletin can have more news of our Class. It is up to you, you know. And be sure and meet me on the Hill next April. Then I will have something to report.

Ina Taylor Powell

Class of 1918

This was the fortieth anniversary for the class of 1918.

These members were present: Lalle Lett Webb, Newport News; Payne Link, Parker; Mable Foster Ford, Boston; Beatrice White Minter, Norfolk; Louise Melbourne Clark, and Nellie Hodgson Warner, Arlington. Your class agent found it impossible to be present and gather news so I am sending a letter to each member. Will you help me by giving it your immediate attention with news and I will have NEWS for the fall Alumnae Supplement.

Lula French Crockett

Class of 1919

The homecoming and class reunions at Mary Washington had a large attendance. I wish more of the 1919 class members could have been on "The Hill" with us. You do not know how much fun you missed by not attending the Golden Anniversary. Those present were: Grace Mason Snuggs, Vivian Moore Johnson, Meta Hutcheson Harrison, Ida Blankenbaker Hoffman, and Mattie Edwards Garner.

This was the first time Grace Mason has attended Homecoming. Grace and family have recently returned from Formosa. They are now living at 3536 North Dickerson Street, Arlington, Virginia. Grace still has her wonderful spirit and is going to be a great help to our class. We are so glad to have her again.

Ida Blankenbaker made her first visit back to MWC. It was so nice seeing her again. Ida is ready to give her support in getting our class back for our reunion next April. I am sure Vivian and Meta will be with us next year as they will be very willing to give their help. Mattie is now Home Director in Willard Hall.

The class of 1919 has been very faithful and has shown great interest in both college and alumnae classmates that have not attended homecomings we want all of you at MWC for our Ruby Ruenlon. We will see you next April!

Fannie Jenkins Donaldson

Class of 1928

Our 30th reunion was held at Barbara W. Hilldrup's home near the campus. We had a wonderful time reminiscing and enjoying punch and cookies.

Present at the reunion were: Barbara Woolard Hilldrup, Elaine Connelly Jones, Dorothy Harris, Pauline McGhee Legett, Lela Darter, Beatrice Gallagher Dishman, Rachael Wingfield DeAnglis, Mildred Olds Leyer, George Overman Stewart, Fannie Baker Green, Louise Ralford Lowe, Emily Wright, Annie Collins Snow, Mary Quinn Lambert, Emma Lou Cooke Macher, and Carmen Mejia Weller.

Nellie Waterfield Wilkins has a granddaughter.

Annie Collins Snow has two granddaughters and one grandson. Ruth Forrester Hammock has a three-year-old granddaughter.

Kitty Hatchett Monroe's older daughter, Anne, is married; her other daughter, Frances, is going to Europe this summer with a group from Vanderbilt University. Kitt's son, Dick, is a swimming champion at Atherton High School in Louisville, Kentucky.

George Overman Stewart's younger son, George, finished at Elon College last summer, and is now a physicist in the Navy Department in Washington; her other son, Ray, is in the Army, stationed in Ohio.

Barbara Woolard Hilldrup is very excited over the prospects of being a grandmother this summer. Louise Ralford Lowell's son is still employed in New York City and is enjoying his work very much.

Carmen Mejia Weller's son, Hauser, has just received his Eagle Scout Award in Troop 187, Fairfax. He also won first place with his exhibit in Medical Science Division at the Science Fair at Fairfax High School and at the Northern Virginia Science Fair; then at Charlottesville, where the eliminations for the State Science Fair were effected, he was selected to go to Roanoke State Fair to enter his exhibit for the final judging.

Fannie Parrot Deale's son, Carlton, won second place in the Physics Exhibit in the Science Fair at Richmond; and he was selected to go to Roanoke to display his device at the State Fair.

Carmen Mejia Weller

Class of 1931

Miss Clara Boyd Wheeler is advisor to the Ministry of Education in establishing the Women's Vocational Education School in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. She also acts as advisor to the school staff. She went to Ethiopia after nine years as consultant with the foreign division of YWCA in Greece.

Miss Anne Person Kearney is now living at 202 North Willard Avenue, Phoebus, Virginia.

Ola Murray Martin

Class of 1939

Maud Brown McBride and her husband, George, moved into her new home at 710 Spring Lane, Sanford, North Carolina last November. Maud would be glad to hear from any of her college friends or have them drop by to see her.

Class of 1943

Homecoming this year was perfectly delightful! It was a chance to meet new people and renew old acquaintances as the song goes. I was most impressed by the new beautiful buildings and yet I felt things hadn't changed so I was completely at home, all the memories of the place came flooding back after I got there. Somehow that food in Seacobeck seemed just the same too, everybody remember?

I enjoyed Barbara Beebe who came all the way from New London, Conn. who hasn't changed a bit. Also from our class was Priscilla Macpherson Allen, who lives at 3707 Leverton St., Silver Spring, Md. I thought on our fifteenth anniversary more than three girls would make it. The class of '48 celebrating had about 30 or 60 girls there, one coming from Chicago. Now I ask you, what is wrong with our class?

Heard from Mozelle Moore Yates who lives in Falls Church that Pela Love Bobbitt teaches school in Richmond, Virginia. Albertina Christian Holohan lives in California, with Nancy her daughter. Eleanor Wilbourne Pinkerton lives in D. C., 503 Onedia St. N. E. "Tina" Christian Holohan's address is 835 Bay Drive North Sacramento, Calif. In case anybody wants to drop her a line.

Barbara, Priscilla, and I dropped Mrs. Bushnell a line telling her we were thinking of her. That's all for now girls please drop me a note if you have any news at all of any girls in our class. The address is always the same: 712 26th Place, South Arlington, Virginia.

Hilda Holloway Law

Class of 1944

I would be really interested to know if any of our class were able to attend Homecoming and if any plans were formulated for our fifteenth anniversary coming up next year. The many miles between "sunny" California and dear old Virginia will make it impossible for me to even think of attending (unless we strike oil or some other kind of buried treasure). Therefore I hope someone who has a chance of attending will volunteer to work with the Alumnae Office in arranging for a suitable celebration for the occasion next homecoming.

Immediately following the release of the last Bulletin, three letters chock full of news items arrived and here is the latest.

Letter number one came from Betty Lautenschlager Piel, Gould Ave., N. Caldwell, N. J. Betty writes that her husband is head of the science department in the East Orange schools and that they have two children, Betty Jo, and John. They built their own home several years ago and now have hopes of adding more bedrooms if they can ever find time to start. Betty seems to have kept in touch with a number of our classmates and here is what she writes about them:

"Dorothy Woodson Baker, in care of American Embassy, Lima, Peru. Dot's been married to John Baker, II, for 12 years and she surely has gotten around. They have been in Turkey, India, Portugal, Prague (Czechoslovakia) and for the last three years in Lima. We usually say hello and good-bye as they come and go by boat. They came home in November and as far as I know, returned by plane in February. They and we hope their next time back will see them stay in Washington for awhile as the children, Stevie Susan and Alex, could use sometime to become little Americans."

Fran Whitehurst Grenable of Toano, Va. was married just a year ago, the nd of March to Bruce. They may be living in Warwick as Betty wrote that Fran teaches English in that high school. Marguerite Klenck Lovejoy of Airport Rd., Reno, Nevada has been living all over the west while her husband, Earl, a geologist, worked for the A.E.O. Now they are living in Reno and I believe her husband is going in business for himself. They have four lovely children, according to the snapshots Betty received.

Helen Hawley Turner of 18 Homewood Road, Lynfield, Wilmington, Del. and Randolph have three children, Randy, Tommy and Mary Beth. Betty has not seen them for five years but thinks Randolph works for DuPont.

Nettie Evans Lawrey, 301 Cedar Lane, Rockville, Md. has three children and her husband works for the State Department. Betty saw Nettie not too long ago and reports that she seems much interested in community affairs.

Dorothy Drake Grathusen of Linwood Park, Fort Lee, N. J. and husband, Harry, stopped by to see Betty and her family recently but Betty regrets she was not home. Come by again, Dottie.

Jean Adie Mangou lives at 232 E. Columbia Ave., Palisades Park, N. J. She has two young daughters.

Letter number two arrived from Elsie Stone Palmore, 2704 Kensington Ave., Richmond. She writes that she and Carlyle have a darling ten-month old daughter. They named her Caryl. Elsie also included the following news in her most welcome letter.

"Jane Pope still lives at 5506 Dillwyn Rd., Richmond, and is in the office of Dr. John Meredith, a surgeon at Medical College of Virginia."

"Virginia Hazlewood Snellings is at 109 Penshurst Rd. and is still employed in the C & O Railway office here. She and Tom had a lovely party where we enjoyed seeing Mary Ann Meyer Moody. She lives at 1210 Hillside Ave. and has four children. Kathryn Spivey Tuck was there, too. She and Joe have a new home at 4308 Hillcrest Rr. and two children.

"Katherine Tompkins Brumble, has moved to Ellerson, Va. and has been teaching at Thomas Jefferson High School in Richmond."

Letter number three came just recently from Rebecca Engleman Russell, Box 61, Crozet, Va. where she lives with her husband of six years, Edwin, and their two lively, blue-eyed, curly-headed blonde daughters. Elaine is four years old and Susan, two years. Edwin teaches agriculture at Albemarle High School. She gleaned the following information and sent it on to be added to our news:

Libby Davis Ranson lives at 8416 Mt. Tibet Road, El Paso, Texas, and has three boys.

Julia Rose is spending the winter taking classes in religious education at Scarritt College, Nashville. For several years she was librarian at a Methodist college in Kentucky.

Margaret Ann Farmer still is in Hawaii with her Air Force husband and small son. Her address is 501st A. F. Band, APO 953, San Francisco, California.

Alice Graves Russell lives in Mineral, Va. Both Alice and her husband teach in the Louisa County High School. They have a four-year-old son. As you may have guessed, Alice's husband and Rebecca's husband, are brothers.

I was just thrilled to death to get these letters. There are still about 300 of you classmates, we haven't mentioned but all you have to do is write me a letter telling all you know about everybody you know from MWC.

Class of 1948

The tenth reunion of the Class of 1948 was truly a momentous occasion. At last count, sixty-two people were there—said to be the (Continued on Page 12) largest individual class reunion ever. We're sorry everyone couldn't be there. Glenna Graves Shiflett and Lois Saunier Hornsby had a wonderful program for the class in Virginia parlor. The trio (Lois, "Sandy," and "Bunny" Johnson Wood) collaborating with Carol Byrd Williamson Doyle sang some of the songs for which they are justly famous. Justine Edwards Borland recited "Twas the Night Before Christmas"—complete with nightgown. Delicious punch and cookies were served and several of the faculty members stopped by between 4 and 5 o'clock to say "hello." It was exciting to see them. A wire was sent to Mrs. Bushnell from the class; we missed not having her with us. One hundred dollars was raised for the Endowment Fund from the Class of 1948 which made us members of the Century Club.

Mildred Reed certainly did an excellent job as Class Agent for the past two and a half years. Doubtless, much of the success of our homecoming was due to her hard work.

Elizabeth Wilson Anderson is living in Kingsport, Tennessee. She has three girls and an only boy.

Alice Durham Serapin lives in Chicago and has two girls and a boy.

Jane Palmer Thornton lives in Falls Church, Virginia and has a boy and a girl.

Ann Gregg Woods

Class of 1949

Leona Hall Howard and her husband Pete (doctor) of Miami, Florida, flew to Columbus, Ohio during April for reunion of Pete's class at Ohio State.

Ann Jackson Atkinson wrote from the National Institute of Health, where she remained for five weeks for treatment of an eye condition.

Norma Kinsel is working on her Ph.D. at the University of Pittsburgh.

Doris Norman Carter wrote that she and her family operate a hatchery near Charlottesville and have a new home.

Ardith Jefferies Zwienner will be visiting her sister in Baltimore for two months. We hope to see her then.

Anne McCaskill Libis

Class of 1950

Rosemary Miller is living in Port Huron, Michigan. She is teaching Instrumental Music and Band in the Junior High School there says she hopes to make our tenth reunion in 1960.

Barbara Lloyd Hiller (Mrs. James) is in Baltimore. Jim works for Calvert Distillers. They have two daughter—Susan, 5, and Mary, 2.

Diane Trimborn is Mrs. Walter Jesse and is residing in Grosse Pte. Woods, Michigan. Her husband is in sales for Simmons. They have a daughter, 5, and a son, 3. Another baby was due in February.

Rachel Nickey Morgenthaler writes that she is now in Baltimore. Skip is with Jos. K. Knowle and Associate as a bridge engineer. Their family consists of two boys and two girls—Lee, 6, Diane, 4, Ellen, 2, and Charles, Jr. almost a year old.

Barbara Saul is Mrs. W. Thompson Baker, married in 1955 in Norfolk. She's living in Poland, Ohio, a small town outside of Youngstown. Her husband is a sales engineer for H. H. Robertson. Barbara says she taught for six years in Virginia—four years in Norfolk county and two in Montgomery. Now she's a full time housewife.

Barbara visited Ruth Maynard this past summer. She is still living in Old Saybrook, Conn., but now under the name of Mrs. Charles Nuhn. According to Barbara they live in a lovely old home which they bought a few years ago. They are the parents of two children, boy and girl, and Charles has his own printing business.

Peggy Litton Fox Vaden is also the mother of a boy and girl. She and Bill, who works for a chemical company, are living in Greensboro, N. C.

Carolyn Lee is married to Dr. W. Kimbel, a minister. They are living in Harrisburg, Pa. and the latest is that they have 3 children, expecting number 4.

Here's some news from Alice Ponte who married Richard Oliver in April, 1953. She says she worked in New York after graduation. Since her marriage she has lived on Long Island, in Albemarle, N. C., and they art now in Columbia, S. C. where they have been for two years. Dick's a sales representative in the Tire Division of the U. S. Rubber Co. Their children are, Kathryn, David, and Steven. Numer four was expected sometime after Christmas.

Class of 1953

Awfully sorry more of you did not attend the reunion this year. Those of us who did had a terrific time! There were twenty-one of us, and I guess we talked enough to make up for the 204 who didn't show up. Fact is, I heard so much I can't remember for sure what I heard, so excuse me, gals who were there, if I omit something you told me or get the facts wrong.

I have a bone to pick with all of you except the twenty-one who came and the nineteen who sent cards in with news and correct addresses. That leaves 185 in the class unaccounted for, with the possible exception of some who had written recently and had nothing further to add. The rest of you are hoarding that good 2c postcard I sent you, and withholding news of yourself the rest of us would like to hear. You're hearing from us, so let us hear from you, just to even the score. It takes precious little time to write a few lines, just try it and see! I'm discouraged about the response so far, so please, please send in your card right away.

One other request before we get to the news. We are currently indebted to my husband in the amount of $11.50. The postcards were $4.50, and I spent $7.00 for a new class scrapbook when the one we started as freshmen was filled. The class agent fund you gave he has been all gone for a couple of years, and our credit rating with Mike is on the downgrade! Hate to ask you for money, but must if I'm to keep at this job. Any donations will be appreciated. . . a quarter would do fine.

Now maybe you'd like to hear a little about our Fifth Reunion luncheon. Those present: from Fredericksburg, Janet Chinn LeCouteur, Pat Hefflin, Betsy Dickinson Surles, Rusty Sargent Easley, Irene Mallaros Constantine and Peggy Hopkins Johnson; from Richmond, Barbara Hamilton Frayle, June Christian Tuttle and Mary Lou Dodge; from the Washington area, Marian Stivers Karydes, Barbara Pritchard Jones, Jordan Harris, Kay Toe Laer, Corcoran, Elaine Strawser and Loretta Sullivan; from Staunton, Becky Spitzer Harvill and from Courtland, Va., Jackie Reese Perdue; from Newark Delaware, Claudia Beswick; from New York, Fran Gianotti and Fran Goldenson; from Walla Walla, Washington, Bobbie Sue Huff Gose. Place cards were "fifths" of "Old Devil", bottled of course in 1953, and the chair covers had devils painted on them. A red-and-white centerpiece was donated by a member of the Fredericksburg Garden Club. Shirley Sinnard Lindell and Connie Bennett Elliott sent tape recordings for our entertainment, and we each taped a message back to them. We also sang some old benefit numbers and school songs into the mike, much to the dismay of those in the hotel dining room adjoining! Had a little trouble remembering words here and there, but fun!

That's all for now except another plea for new snapshots for the class scrapbook, and 25c in coin, stamps or cigarettes to get me out of debt!

The usual air of gaiety reigned at Homecoming this year with the exchange of news on old friends and reminiscing of old times on the "Hill." 'Twas lots of fun, but much to my disappointment, we were surely slack in representation. Present for our reunion were Marian Thomas Minor, Dorothy Wolfe York, Gretchen Hogaboom Fisher, Carolyn Bidwell, and I. What happened?

Marian is still teaching physical education in Jr. High in Richmond, but in addition, is instructing nursing students at the Medical College of Virginia.

Gretchen burst forth wearing the "new look" and had lots of exciting news about the new house that she and Skip are about to own near Washington.

Dorothy Wolfe York is teaching fifth grade in Stafford County, Fredericksburg.

Congratulations to Carolyn "Biddy" Bidwell on now being Director of Continuity for the WVA-TV, Richmond, Virginia. "Biddy" looked just wonderful and proved to us what strong determination and a steady diet can do for one!

Barbara Jones Black writes that she and Bob and little Lori are now living in Texas. Bob is stationed at Fort Sam Houston. Her neighbor is Lib Matthes Click '53. Barbara's address is 171 Twigg Road, San Antonio 9, Texas.

The nicest and most informative letter arrived from Kathleen Clarkson Barlow recently. She and Dave, during their two and one-half years of marriage, have gone from a three room apartment in Somers, Massachusetts to a five room house in Littleton. They have a little girl, Susan, who will, on August 16, be two years old. Their address is Matawanee Trail, R.F.D. No. 1, Littleton, Massachusetts.

Trust that I will receive much news during the summer months, so we can contribute a great deal to the first issue in the fall. Have a wonderful and safe summer!
